ASSOCIATION ASKS STEWART TO SERVE

Basketball Conference to Be Held in Chicago During the Intercollegiate Meet

Coach Jim Stewart has received a letter asking him to serve as a member of the National Basketball association. The first meeting of the association will be held at Chicago June 10 and 11 during the National Intercollegiate track meet.
The basketball coaches of the Big Ten conference, the Missouri Valley conference, and of most of the mid-west institutions met at the Drake relays this year and decided to form an association like the present football combine. The most prominent coaches present at the meeting were formed into a Central West committee and were requested to ask certain coaches to become members of the association.
Coach Stewart will fill a double bill during the trip as he will accompany Montana's entries to the national meet.

STUDENTS TO VOICE OPINIONS BY PRESS

Through a proposal of the United Feature syndicate of New York, student writers in this country and abroad will be able to make articulate the younger generation's attitude toward its world; to give expression on matters which it feels it has the right to be concerned in, through a news service, an International Press, it has been announced. The company making the offer is owned and operated by the United Press associations. The syndicate proposes to distribute student-written articles each week to papers in this and foreign countries. Their aim is to give a direct, vitalized and intelligent cross-section of youth's outlook and thought. The purpose of the plan is to utilize the facilities and organization of the United Press associations all over the world by calling to the attention of publishers and editors, this unusual paper service.

Good Possibilities
The opportunities possible under this system are considered unlimited. Success will depend on the copy received. If it is of general interest and anything that is good newspaper copy, it will be acceptable. Cartoons that have value can find a market here also.

The newspaper service offers to promote this new service as all others are promoted. The United Feature service plans to appoint an editorial staff for selection and handling of articles offered by the students. The syndicate will defray all costs of manufacture, distribution, exploitation and sales, besides keeping accounts, making collections, and carrying on all business matters in general.

Thirty-three and one-third per cent of gross proceeds will go to the contributors. Articles are not to exceed 500 words. Five or six of the most important and interesting articles will be organized into a weekly service for Saturday or Sunday publication by papers willing to pay the authors. Contributions should be typed, one page of paper used. Name, address, class and college are to be given. No distinctions of any kind are made.

TWO TIE FOR FIRST AWARD IN HISTORY ESSAY COMPETITION

Thora Sorenson, senior in the Mathematics department, and Harold Blinn, senior in the History department, were awarded the prize for the Bennett Essay contest. The competition was so keen that no definite first award could be given. The prize, which amounted to $50, was divided between the two winners.

Miss Sorenson's paper was on "Pan-Americanism." Mr. Blinn's topic was "The World Court."

The judges for the contest were J. H. Toelle, associate professor of Law; O. Tonnig, assistant professor of History; Dr. C. R. Howard, instructor in Economics; E. L. Freeman, professor of English; and G. D. Shallenberger, professor of Physics.

Each year the Bennett Essay contest is conducted by the History department. The prize consists of interest on a sum of money, which was donated to the University by William Jennings Bryan.

SENIOR ANNOUNCEMENTS ARRIVE AT ASUM STORE

Senior announcements and cards have all arrived and may be called for at the ASUM store. Three hundred extra ones have been ordered to meet the demand of seniors who want more.

The announcements are different from the plain ones of last year. They are of heavy white paper with the University seal engraved in silver at the top.

STUDENTS SUPPORT ATHLETIC TAG SALE

Bear Paws and Tanans in Charge of Drive to Raise Money for Coming Trips

"Members of the student body responded exceptionally well to the tag sale and the Bear Paws have sold a goodly number since they began the job yesterday morning," said Art Burns, Bear Paw chief grizzly.

The tags are being sold to raise money for the track team. The gate receipts for the track season have not been up to those of former years due to the bad weather that has accompanied practically every appearance the Montana cinder men have made in Missoula. Consequently, if a team is to be sent to the two Coast conference meets money has to be raised.

This gives the students an opportunity to show the members of the team that they appreciate the laurels they have garnered thus far this season and that they are willing to send them to other meets that they may accomplish more feats and still further the "spirit of Montana."

The members of both Tanan and Bear Paw are selling the tags and students who have not yet purchased their tags are urged to do so this afternoon. The price of the tags is 50 cents.

Seniors May Have Copies of Sentinel By First of June

Bob MacKenzie and John Allen, editor and art editor respectively of the 1927 Sentinel, returned Thursday night from Great Falls, after spending several days in that city on Sentinel work.

They arrived in Great Falls Monday night and spent Tuesday and Wednesday at the Tribune Printing and Supply office, reading proof and straightening up odds and ends on the book. They read practically all of the proofs except those of the athletic section, which were sent to Missoula to be read and were returned to the Tribune office yesterday. The book has gone through the press once and is now on its second run. It is very attractive and the cover, combined with the rest of the book, carries out the simplicity used throughout, according to the editor.

While in Great Falls MacKenzie and Allen had an opportunity to see the Bobcat annual, which is just off the press, and which they declare to be exceptionally good this year.

The 1927 Sentinel will be ready for distribution to seniors June 1, and the remainder of the copies will be ready two or three days later.

Young Will Speak
William Young, student pastor, leaves Friday morning for Dixon to deliver a commencement address that evening. The subject will be, "The Tournament of the Gods."

SENIORS PLAN GREEK MOTIF FOR EXERCISES

Graduating Class Will End College Career With Distinction

"It's all Greek to us," is the statement of Walt Nelson, chairman of the committee on senior class day exercises, in referring to the elaborate and interesting program that has been planned for Class day night, June 4. "Everything will be in the Greek—scenes, costumes and properties," added Nelson. "The seniors feel that their four years in college have been exceptionally active and successful and they want to close their college career with something big."

Dramatized Exercises
The exercises will be dramatized and will consist of three parts: the history, will, and prophecy. Varsity awards will be given as a part of the program.

All parts will have Greek settings and will be acted in Greek costume. The reading of the history will be accompanied by classical dancing, music, and pantomimic acting and posing. The scene for this part is a Greek garden, with massive Doric pillars in the foreground. The acting will take place in a pale blue garden in the background.

Nan Walsh, Alice Lease, Maureen Desmond, and Gladys Price, as mystical muses, carry the interpretive parts in the dance.

The class will have for its setting a potter's stand in old Greece. The characters are: Mum 'n' Dad, maker of pots and crocks; Mazda, a page of Greek in the slang, and three scribes, buzzards of the Greek bar.

Slapstick Will
According to members of the committee the will is a riot of slapstick, a burlesque of the Greeks, with Milt Gross humor. The entire cast for the will has not as yet been selected.

The prophecy will be enacted in the same setting as the history and will be a serious classical literary part, accompanied, as in the history, by classical dancing, music, and pantomimic acting.

Program After Parade
The program will be given in the men's gymnasium, following the lantern parade on the oval. The University has made arrangements to have the gym decorated, and for a large stage to be erected in one end.

According to Malcolm Morrow, class president, the University authorities, as well as the seniors, are particularly anxious to make the exercises a success. No admission will be charged for the program.

Riedell Will Exhibit Color Theory Charts

Clifford Riedell, professor of fine arts, will put in place in the Fine Arts studio this week 181 charts showing the Riedell theory of color which demonstrates the different possibilities of color combinations. The entire group of charts was worked out by Mr. Riedell, some of the better designs and combinations being in the form of landscape scenes.

This exhibition is being given for the benefit of the design class. Mr. Riedell will discuss his theory Thursday afternoon during the regular class period from 1:30 to 3:30. Mr. Riedell stated that anyone who was interested in this theory is invited to attend the lecture.

FORESTRY SCHOOL HOLDS BARBECUE IN HONOR OF SENIORS

Sunday afternoon the foresters held their annual barbecue in honor of the seniors in the Forestry school library.

Early in the morning the cooks, Mr. De Jarrette, Andy Krocchek, and Howard Dix, went up the Rattlesnake to roast the pork and beef. Afterwards they returned to the Forestry school, where the barbecue was held. During the feast toasts and short talks were given by Mr. De Jarrette, Donald Shaw for the seniors, and Professor I. W. Retrospectively Speaking

FOLLOWING the last mid-term examinations, there occurred the so-called "suicide wave" among college students. Such reasons as an uncontrollable desire to delve into the mysterious beyond, a too acute realization of the futility of life, the study of psychology, "the romanticism of adolescence shocked by reality," etc., were cited as probable explanations. The wave has seemingly abated, and we view the subject less excitedly, in retrospect.

Concerning the suggested reasons for a "suicide wave," Dr. Madison Bentley, professor of psychology at the University of Illinois, said:

"The real causes of a desire for death are generally as far beyond the vision of a maladjusted youth as are the disease germs in an infected liver or in a lung. The mentally sick person is no more capable of diagnosing his disorder than the average person suffering from physical disease. . . . The fact that young suicides are reported to have mentioned certain studies as leading them to take their lives is not convincing evidence."

He added that it was a matter for statistical inquiry, not to be settled by the amount of space given to student suicides in current newspapers.

Such a statistical inquiry has been made by the Crowell Publishing company. There has been no wave. The figures showed that the proportion of suicides among students was no greater than among clerks, or other groups of the same age. With the great increase in college enrollment has come an increased number of cases for the psychiatrist; perhaps college is more representative of life in general than we think—the ills of the subnormal are not taboo.

College students today have problems not so different from those other students have had before. Some information which may be received passively or which may excite tremendously, and perhaps dangerously, is still gained, by helplessness or intent (despite the twenty-year-old note system in vogue in some classes). Some students still adjust a relationship with the rest of the world painfully.

And, with the almost complete ebb of the "suicide wave," another avenue for sensational and undesirable publicity has been practically closed to yellow journals, catering to a class who delight in saying, "That's this college stuff for you."

What of Freshmen

FRESHMEN are human beings and are entitled to some consideration. It is the tendency of fraternities to keep freshmen from enjoying their ordinary rights for a year in the hope that it will make better men of them. One wonders in what way they are expected to improve under the law of the paddle. The result is obvious. From the period of servitude the freshman emerges either a dissenter, whose sole aim is to "crab," or a perfect fraternity type. The former does nothing constructive and is a restless and discontented member.

The latter is nothing but a conformist, accepting the conventions of an Emily Post society. Others have thought for him so long that he has lost all semblance of individualism. He is a person shaped into the shapeless nothingness of the majority.

The transition from high school to college is great. Freshmen need the aid of an advisor. If fraternities would drop the "herd riding" tactics and adopt a policy of constructive criticism they would indeed fulfill a worthy mission.

Another Aim in Life

The University of Washington is searching for the best dressed man on its campus. Don't you think that any one achieving such an honor should be awarded a scholarship, or at least a letter?

Our Girl

Thinks that coal consumption is a form of t. b.

The Boy Friend

Is very systematic. He has a budget, and figures that ten per cent of his income should go to charity. This does not include dates.

Ask Them Another!!!

The ideal girl is to be judged by vote at the University of Washington. Here is the comment from their daily:

We hope that this poll is successful, as in this blind date era one never knows what or when one should marry. Such surveys as the following questions should prove a great help for future matrimonial aspirants. The following is the men's questionnaire:

Question: What type of girl would you prefer for a wife—old fashioned, flapper or compromise?

Answer: The flapper, she wears less clothes and therefore costs less money. Old fashioned wives use hat pins, while compromised wives too many times end up in divorce courts.

Question: What effect does petting have upon a girl's matrimonial prospects?

Answer: It has a very bad effect. Often girls who get petted will judge a man by his whiskers and forget all about his character.

Question: Should a man who smokes or drinks expect his future wife to forego these habits?

Answer: Absolutely, two may be able to live as cheaply (though not as quietly) as one, but not with both of them smoking and drinking.

Question: Which do you prefer, the athletic girl, the intellectual girl or the good sport?

Answer: I prefer first of all the good sport, then next the athletic girl who is willing to work. The intellectual girls are not to be considered because if they are really intelligent they will never marry.

Cynic's Calendar

A rainstorm a day keeps the May Fete away.

U.C.L.A. complains that their campus was made ridiculous through "The Collegians," whose sets were made on the grounds of the aforementioned University of California at Los Angeles. What we saw made us think that S.B.U.C. had certainly changed in more than name since we had seen it. You know: all the co-eds in the picture looked like sweet girl graduates, unbelievably s. s. and g. g. all the "students" wore Harold Lloyd horn-rims, and an antiquated glycerine-eyed mother did sob-stuff. On the same basis, Montana might be shown with lusty Indian braves, and Pros who wouldn't give "A's" could be disposed of with a tomahawk, or lassoed and hung out of convenient windows . . . or slunk over the tops of tepees.

Purdue is Pioneering

Lafayette, Ind.—(IP)—The gospel of the benefits of electricity on the farm and in the home is being spread throughout rural Indiana by the Purdue University electric exhibition car, which is touring the state under the direction of the university experiment station, the school of electrical engineering and the Indiana Electric Light Association. Over 12,000 people have inspected the car during the past four weeks.

The Oldest Collegian

Delaware, Ohio—(IP)—Ohio Wesleyan University claims the oldest living graduate of any American college of university. Samuel Wesley Williams, who graduated from Ohio Wesleyan in 1852, has just passed his ninety-ninth birthday.

Alarm Awakens Professor

Ada, Ohio—(IP)—When a hidden alarm clock three times disturbed a chapel address being given by the Rev. Emil Bauman, of Dayton, in the chapel here, the speaker located the clock and claimed it as a souvenir, admitting that he had had a bad reputation for such pranks when he was a student at Ohio Northern University twenty years ago.

QUADRONS MEETING WILL BE THURSDAY

There will be a Quadrans meeting for all junior and senior women at 5 o'clock Thursday in Natural Science hall. The purpose of the meeting is to get the juniors organized for next year, and an election of officers will be held at this time. Every junior woman is urged to be present. Final plans for commencement will also be discussed at this meeting, so it is important that all senior women be there.

UNIVERSITY HINDUS OBJECT TO SPEECH

Kansas Students Claim Sutton Misrepresents India; Declare War Rumor, Farce

Lawrence, Kan.—(IP)—Seventeen Hindu students at the University of Kansas have issued a vigorous protest against an address given here recently by Dr. Sutton, on the subject of India.

The Indian students declared that the speaker had spent only two weeks in their native land and was unable to study carefully in that time the characteristics of the nation; that he grossly misrepresented the culture of the nation by showing as typical pictures of obscure tribes, and that he insulted their fellow citizens when he told of having a cigarette snatched from his fingers by an Indian lad, whom he classed as "above the average of Indian honesty."

"Dr. Sutton was representing the bad side of India throughout his lecture," declared Anup S. Dhillon, spokesman for the protesting Hindus. "We could go back to India and represent an almost equally bad side of America if we wished, but we know that there is a good side also. Dr. Sutton overlooked the good side of India."

The students also objected to the speaker's statement that if Great Britain were to withdraw from India the nation would be torn to pieces by civil war within a week.

Hiram, Ohio.—(IP)—Dating among undergraduates at Hiram college is called "perching." The use of the word grew, it is said, from the practice of former students who used to sit with their co-ed friends on a traditional fence on the campus.

One Year Ago

Students failed to pass on the self-government plan by 60 votes, according to the results of the ballots taken Thursday and Friday. There were 488 votes cast in favor of the plan and 236 against it. The registration is 1,066 and it would have been necessary for 548 students to vote for the issue. Examinations for the spring quarter will be held in the gymnasium as formerly but will be under the supervision of the faculty.

Members of the junior class entertained the seniors at the Junior Promenade, the last all-University event of the season, held at the Winter Garden Friday night. Miss Dorothy Dixon was crowned queen of the prom. More than 100 couples attended the dance.

Montana University track squad, after completing one of their best years in history with a decisive victory over Montana State college and Intermountain Union college last Saturday afternoon, elected Sweet and Gillette to lead the 1927 squad. Milton Ritter was captain of this year's undefeated team.

Fourteen students were elected to membership in the Montana Masquers at a meeting held last evening. Plans were discussed for the Little Theater. Beginning next fall students may be voted into the club who have been members of the acting or producing staffs of at least three Masquer plays.

Ban House Parties

ELEVEN GRIZZLIES TO DEFEND MONTANA AT CONFERENCE MEET

Quality, Not Quantity, to Carry Tri-Color Hopes Against Larger Teams

Coch Stewart and 11 Grizzly runners leave this week-end to attend the first annual track and field meet of the northern division of the Pacific Coast conference, Friday and Saturday at Corvallis, Oregon.

This is the first meet of this nature to be held in the northern division and Montana will have a chance to strive for honors in competition with five other schools, as the Grizzlies were deprived of the chance to show their ability when the quad-rangular meet was postponed earlier in the season.

Six Schools Entered

The other schools competing are the University of Washington, Washington State, Idaho, Oregon and Oregon Aggies. According to dope the University of Washington is picked to cop the honors, as the Huskies have men able to win points in all events. They are weak in the mile, jumps and javelin throw. Montana is selected to win second honors with the other four schools pressing hard. Advance information has figured the possible points as follows: University of Washington, 48 to 54 points; Montana, 31 to 34; Oregon Aggies, 22 to 24; Washington State, 20 to 22; Oregon, 16 to 18; Idaho, 11 to 15.

Montana Entries

Montana's entries in the meet are Clarence Coyle, who will compete in the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Clarence has been clocked in the century at 9.9 seconds and 22 seconds in the 220. Barkes Adams in the half-mile, with a time of 1:59.2. Captain Gillette, two-mile run. He will attempt to break his former record of 9:30.2, should good weather prevail. Spaulding will enter both the high and low hurdles, with the time of 15.5 in the high and 25.3 in the low hurdles. Miller with a height of 12 feet 4 inches will compete in the pole vault. Bessey and Pearce will combine their efforts in the javelin throw. Samples in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, having made the time of 10 flat in the former and 22.2 seconds in the latter. Whitcomb will toss the shot. He has reached better than 43 feet in this event. T. Davis will also enter the 100-yard dash, having run this event in 10 flat. He will be Montana's principal runner in the 440 with R. Davis as his partner. Tom has made the course in 50 flat and Dick under 51 seconds.

Expect to Break Records

Several records are expected to fall as there is some exceptional talent competing. Leading entries from other schools, with the best records up to date of some of the contenders for places are:

100-yard dash—Anderson, 9.8, and Peltret, University of Washington; Extra, 10.2, University of Oregon; McGillivray, 10.1, Washington State.

220-yard dash—Anderson, 22, and Schroder, University of Washington; Joos, Oregon Aggies; Extra, 22.8, and Flannagan, University of Oregon; McGillivray, 21.9, Washington State.

440-yard dash—Ouillet, 50.2, Washington State; Sisson, 51, Oregon Aggies; Peltret, Smith, University of Washington; Norman, Idaho; Standard, 51.1, University of Oregon.

880-yard run—Charteris, Torney, University of Washington; Ashbrenner, Idaho; Roys, Washington State, 1:59.

Mile run—Williams, 4:26; Devine, 4:24, Washington State; Clayton, 4:29, Oregon Aggies; McCullum, 4:32.5, University of Washington; Jensen, University of Oregon.

Two-mile run—Cleaver, 9:32, Idaho; Hill, Neidemyer, University of Oregon; Devine, 9:45, Washington State.

High hurdles—Mitchell, 15.5, Idaho; Faget, 16.1, University of Washington; Fehrem, Oregon Aggies; McGee, University of Oregon.

Low hurdles—Shelley, 25, University of Washington; Twitcheil, Fehrem, Oregon Aggies; McGee, University of Oregon; Thompson, Idaho.

Shot put—Dixon, 49.10; Oregon Aggies; Brix, 48.14, University of Washington; Wetzel, 32, University of Oregon; Pickett, 43.14, Colling, 42.4, Idaho.

Discus throw—Brix, 136.10, Spillers, University of Washington; Dixon, Oregon Aggies; Stager, 134.10, University of Oregon; Pickett, 134.5, Idaho.

Javelin throw—Whitlock, 190.4, Oregon Aggies; Wetzel, 187.10, University of Oregon; Pickett, 167.11, Idaho; Brix, University of Washington.

SPORT GLIMPSES

Sport program for this week:

Baseball game. Washington State vs. University of Montana on Dornblaser field this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Conference track meet at Corvallis Friday and Saturday.

With Coyle and Samples able to join the Montana squad, the Grizzlies have a good chance to win at Corvallis. The University of Washington has the best balanced squad.

Coch Stewart will take ten or eleven men to the coast. The probable entries will be Clarence Coyle, 100 and 220 dashes; Barkes Adams, half-mile; Arnie Gillette, two-mile; Clarence Spaulding, high and low hurdles; Jake Miller, pole vault; Otto Bessey and Cal Pearce, javelin; Claude Samples, 100 and 220; Clark Whitcomb, shot put; Tom Davis, 100 and quarter-mile, and Dick Davis, 440. The relay team will be picked from Tom and Dick Davis, Auams, Gillette, Coyle, and Samples.

Montana will have the smallest squad present at the conference meet. Although the Grizzlies will not have quantity, they will have quality. It is probably the best all around squad that will be present at the Corvallis tournament. Montana has probably the most versatile track squad in the country. This is the hope on the men that are going to the conference and although these men will not enter all the events that they are capable of doing, still they could hold their own in all of these events with the best of conference competition.

Coyle will enter the 100 and 220-yard dashes but he is also a fast low hurdler and a good pole vaulter. Tom Davis, although completing only his first year as a Grizzly track man, has proved to be another dash star. He will enter the 100 and the 440 at Corvallis. He is also a 220 man and has won a number of points for Montana in the furlong.

Captain Arnold Gillette will protect his conference two-mile record. He is also a capable runner in the mile and half-mile and at present holds the conference title in the mile and up to Saturday was the possessor of the half-mile state record. Barkes Adams does the 440, half-mile and mile but will only enter the half-mile in the conference struggle. He captured the title from Arnie Saturday when he ran the event in 1:59.2 in the dual meet at Pullman.

Clarence Spaulding is a tall and low stick artist and will attempt to show his excellence to the other hurdlers in both events this week. He has turned in especially good time in both races. Jake Miller is a pole vaulter and a broad jumper but specializes in attempting to ascend to the clouds with the use of a stick. He vaulted 12 feet 4 inches at Pullman.

Otto Bessey and Cal Pearce, Montana's two midget javelin throwers, will attempt to wrench some prominence from the 200-pound spear tossers. Claude Samples will enter the 100 and the 220. He is a fast man in both events. Clark Whitcomb, with very little experience and with a late start, has turned out to be a good shot putter. He will vie with some of the nation's best. Dick Davis has run the 440, mile and half-mile but will only enter the shorter event at Corvallis. Dick is a 50-second man and has improved in every meet.

Coch Stewart has an array of relay material that is capable of breaking most anything, including records. Possible entries are Tom Davis, Dick Davis, Barkes Adams, Arnold Gillette, Clarence Coyle, and Claude Samples.

The Montana men did remarkably well considering the kind of weather that they ran into or took with them to Pullman. It rained, sleeted, and chilled every muscle and then it rained and sleeted. Jake Miller vaulted 12 feet 4 inches in that kind of weather, hard telling what he would have done if the weather was nice. Barkes Adams showed his heels to Roys, flashy Cougar half-miler, and won the event at 1:59.2. He would probably have covered the distance in around 1:58 with something like pleasant weather.

Dick Davis' fast finish in the relay was one of the outstanding events of the meet. Getting away with a 50-yard loss, because of Staunton's leg injury, he overcame all but four yards in the quarter-mile distance. If Staunton had run the first relay it is probable that the Montana runners would have overcome the handicap as each of the next three could have shouldered some of the burden but that was too much for one man to do, although Dick did valiantly in his attempt.

Pole vault—Nardin, 12, University of Washington; Mann, Barnes, Waller, 12, Washington State; Nessing, Oregon Aggies; Bracher, University of Oregon.

High jump—McCulloch, 6, University of Oregon; Humes, Henning, University of Washington; Hansen, Wilcox, Oregon Aggies; Pickett, Kyle, O'Brien, Idaho.

Broad jump—Flannagan, 23.1; McGee, University of Oregon; Striff, 22.4, Oregon Aggies; Humes, University of Washington; Cook, Idaho.

There will be six relay teams. The possible men Coach Stewart will use for Montana are T. Davis, R. Davis, Adams, Gillette, Coyle and Samples. Each man has been clocked from 50 to 53 seconds.

COUGARS CINCH TITLE OF EASTERN DIVISION

Displaying the same hitting power that made them so widely feared last year, the slugging Cougars of W.S.C. hammered out enough hits to win handsily over Coach Milburn's Grizzlies in the first of the two-game series. Hard and opportune hitting by the Pullmanites wrote defeat for the Montanans in large, muddy letters all over the diamond.

Berg and Exley Knock Homers

Berg and Exley, hitting third and fourth in the lineup, both landed lusty thumps in the first inning, the hits going for the circuit. These two lads proved to be a pair of large and sharp thorns in the ribs of the Grizzlies throughout the afternoon, Exley getting a brace of blows that traveled farther than Lindberg flew. The first Montana count came when Brown walked, went to second on Chinske's sacrifice fly and scored on Ritter's hit.

Then in the sixth, Berg and Exley, the unholy two, started out by accepting two gift trips to the first base. McCord hoisted a balloon-like fly which settled into Chinske's mitt and Aubrey emulated this by lifting another out to Rafferty. Rowher, a troublesome youth, then advanced to the rubber and pounded one of Brown's offerings on the nose for two bases, enough to send Berg and Exley ambling in with another brace of counters. Sebastian became tired and whiffed longingly.

Morrow Scores

Exley, again becoming unmanageable, pounded out another circuit wallop in the ninth. The pellet became lost in the neighboring farmer's fruit orchard and Mr. Exley was able to proceed at leisure around the cushions. The Grizzlies added another to their total in the ninth. Morrow walked and Bill Hodges cracked a single to send the Grizzly outfielder to third. Chinske grounded to third but Rowher threw wide to first and Morrow counted. This ended the festivities.

UNIVERSITY DIVIDES WITH COLLEGE NINE

Grizzlies Take Second Contest With Rafferty on the Mound

Playing in anything but baseball weather the Grizzlies split even in their double-header with the Bobcats, this being the first series between these two teams.

Vay Glynn, ace of the Bobcat pitching staff and now property of the San Francisco Seals, was master of the Tricolors in the first game, the Blue and Gold winning 8-2. He allowed only six well scattered hits and fanned seven of the University batsmen. Milton Brown, Coach Milburn's choice as slabman for the first contest, also was stingy with the blows, allowing only nine safe swats, but his wildness in the seventh inning proved costly. McFarland, Stone, and Twilide hit in succession in the fourth and Briscoe's single scored McFarland, but Stone was caught at the plate by a neat relay to stop the rally. Kelly's one-base swat and Rognlien's mighty three-base wallop to right evened the score for the Grizzlies in their half of the same inning. A Bobcat crossed the plate in the sixth when Kelly threw low to first and the ball bounced away from Rognlien. The seventh finished the contest, as far as the Bobcats were concerned. Glynn started the fireworks by walking and Babcock, pinch hitting for Bowen, singled. Sullivan was hit and the bags were loaded. McFarland doubled, Stone tripled, Thompson got a three-bagger and Kelly's error helped to add six scores to the State college total. The Grizzlies got another score in the ninth when Charteris and Morrow were hit and Charteris came around on Chinske's single.

Grizzlies Win Second Contest
The Grizzlies evened the count in the second contest when the Bobcats were unable to solve the shoots of Rafferty and when the Tricolor swatters bounced on to the hooks of "Lefty" Babcock. Bill allowed only nine well-scattered blows while the ten nicks off Babcock were bunched for eight tallies.

Glynn Starts Rally
The Bobcats started playing roughly when Glynn's double and Stone's single tallied one in the first but the Grizzlies were in no humor to return good for evil and with the aid of two casualties, Ritter's free ticket and singles by Chinske and Charteris, the Grizzlies scored three in their half of the initial inning. The Grizzlies added another in the second on Morrow's double and a base-hit by Chinske.

Three more crossed home plate in the fourth on a walk, a single, a double and a triple. The Grizzlies topped their scoring spree with a run in the seventh on Morrow's triple and an infield out. Two errors figured strongly in the Bobcats' two scores in the seventh inning.

The Bobcats and Grizzlies will tangle again this week-end when the two squads meet in a two-game series, Friday and Saturday, at Bozeman. The squad will leave Thursday night. Thirteen men will make the trip.

GRIZZLIES DEFEATED AT PULLMAN MEET

Staunton Pulls Muscle in Deciding Contest as Cougars Win 68 to 62

Losing its first dual meet in three years, the Montana track squad was defeated by the Washington State college, 68 to 62. The deciding factor was the relay which the Staters captured by four yards, when Staunton, who was the third runner, pulled a muscle, giving Dick Davis, anchor man, a 50-yard handicap which he decreased to some four yards.

Inclement Weather
The teams struggled against a cold wind and rain. The Grizzlies maintained the lead up to the fifth event, when the Washington State aggregation gained the lead with Montana just a point or two behind, until the relay, when the score stood 63 to 62.

Individual honors went to Spaulding and Samples, with two firsts each to their credit.

Grizzlies Take 10 Firsts
Although the Grizzlies took 10 firsts to their opponents' five, they failed to win, as the Cougars were constantly picking up seconds and thirds, in fact they secured 11 second places to Montana's three. The Staters made a clean sweep in the mile and discus throw, taking all three places with Montana capturing the javelin places.

Captain Gillette ran the two-mile event in the fastest time he has traversed the course this season. After trailing Devine for seven and one-half laps, the diminutive Grizzly runner started his 220-yard sprint, leading his opponent to the tape by several yards, coming within 3.5 seconds of his Pacific coast record.

Adams Breaks Record
Barkes Adams furnished the surprise of the meet when he clipped one-fifth of a second off Gillette's time in the half-mile. Adams made the 880 yards in 1:59.2, Gillette's time being 1:59.4 which he made against the Bobcats a week ago.

Tom Davis won the 440-yard dash after a hard struggle with Ouillet of the State. Although the race was not exceptionally fast it provided interest for the crowd. Spaulding did not let his injured knee prevent his capturing both hurdle races, or running the low hurdles three-tenths of a second faster than his best time. Miller reached a good height in the pole vault despite the cold weather. Samples ran both the century and 220-yard dash in good time. Pearce tossed the javelin to best his former mark by 12 inches and establish a new state record.

The Grizzlies failed to do their best in the broad jump as Kain was the only one to place. As for the discus, the Staters heaved the plate way beyond the best mark made this season by the Grizzlies. None of Montana's entries placed in the mile run as the Cougars ran the event in exceptionally good time.

Handicapped by Coyle's Absence
Had Clarence Coyle made the trip, possibly the outcome would have been in favor of Montana. His loss meant conceding 10 points to the Staters.
